HINTS ON THE CULTURE OF THE HYACINTH. HYACINTHS IN GLASSES.

Fill the glass so as to touch the base of the bulb with clear water, putting in a small piece of charcoal. After filling the glasses, they should be placed in a cool, dry, dark place for a month, till the roots reach about the bottom of the glass, when they may be brought to the light. Attention is required to keep a sufficient supply of water in the glass, and looking over the bulbs while growing, to brush off any decayed skin that may be on the bulb. The water should be changed every two or three weeks.

HYACINTHS IN POTS.

For the culture of the Hyacinth in pots, it is of the greatest importance to have a good light rich soil, rich loam, decayed cow manure and sand in equal proportions will suit them best. When potting leave the top of the bulb level with the surface of the soil; four or five inch pots are the best sizes to use. After potting place them on a bed of wet ashes or ordinary soil, and cover them to a depth of five or six inches. When well rooted, which will be in about six weeks, they may be removed indoors. The best time for planting is October and November.

HYACINTHS IN BEDS AND BORDERS.

The best time for planting these is October or November, in light rich soil, which should previously be dug to a depth of 18-inches. The bulbs may be planted six inches apart and five inches deep. To protect the bulbs against severe weather, the beds or borders should have a light covering of small litter straw or hay, which should be removed about the middle of March.
